FESS URGES MONEY TO DISCOVER REMEDY

Physicians Believe Second Year May Show Fearful
After Effects

PLAGUE WILL APPEAR AGAIN, DOCTORS THINK

Medical Authorities Still Are Baffled; Must Find Germ
to Get Antitoxin

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Congress should immediately appropriate $1,500,000 for fighting influenza, recurrences of which medical authorities say are probable, Representative Fess, Ohio, will tell the house today.

Fess and Senator Harding of Ohio have introduced measures embodying the recommendations Fess made today.

The last epidemic caused 500,000 deaths, and a total economic loss of nearly $4,000,000, according to figures compiled by the American Medical Association, Fess said.

"The last important thing now is to find a cure. This will require expensive research and I propose that the money shall be expended under the direction of the public health service."

"There is a general belief in the medical world that the second and third years will show frightful after-effects unless specific remedies can be found. But the appalling loss of 500,000 lives—five times our loss in the war—with assurance that the plague will appear again, is enough to arouse us to immediate action."

"It is generally believed that success will follow the efforts of the medical world in its fight against the epidemic, just as in the cases of yellow fever, typhus, diphtheria and other maladies."

Fess read to the house a letter from Otto P. Gier, secretary of the American Medical Association, which stated that mortality was 40 per cent above the normal death rate in the years after the previous influenza epidemics.

Medical authorities, Gier admitted, still are baffled over the origin and cause of the disease and stated that the "possibility of discovery of any real antitoxin for influenza is wholly dependent upon the discovery of the actual germ causing the disease."

24 OVERCOME BY FIRE IN HOLD OF STEAMER

NEW YORK, July 25.—Twenty firemen and four members of the crew of the White Star liner Sedric were overcome last night by smoke from a blaze in the ship's after hold.

The ship's cargo of foodstuffs was reported a total loss. Damage was estimated at $25,000.

COTTON GOODS TO GO UP FIFTY PER CENT

CHICAGO, July 25.—That cotton will advance to 75 cents a pound and cotton goods to 50 per cent higher than at present were predictions of merchants who attended the fourth "business builders' conference" here.

The conference was held under the auspices of the Dry Goods Reporter, for the purpose of bringing together in a sort of round-table discussion of business problems, and was attended by retail merchants from many Middle Western and Southern states.

"The root of the evil," said a southern merchant, "is the manufacturer, and until he comes down on his prices the public will have to pay all sorts of war prices for every household necessity."

AMBASSADOR TO GERMANY
ROME, July 25.—Giacomo De Martino, director general of the foreign office, was named Italian ambassador to Germany today. Prince Alliata Villa Franca was appointed counselor to the Italian embassy at Washington.

WILL BATTLE FOR ACT TO REGULATE PACKERS

National Marketing Body Is Formed For Enactment
of Kenyon Bill

PROPAGANDA CAMPAIGN TO BE COUNTERACTED

Ex-Congressman Kent Hopes to Cut Cost of Handling Farm Products

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Formation of a national marketing commission to press for enactment of the Kenyon bill to regulate the packers was announced today by William Kent, former congressman from California and now a member of the United States tariff commission.

A nationwide campaign to counteract propaganda against the Kenyon measure will be begun at once, Kent said.

In addition to pushing the Kenyon bill, the aims of the committee, as outlined by Kent, are:

To create enlightened public opinion concerning waste and unnecessary expense in handling and distributing farm products.

To promote and foster proper marketing organizations, standardization of agricultural products, proper warehouse systems, expert marketing services in various states and uniformity in methods by states inaugurating investigation and demonstration work in marketing.

"We start with a splendid background of popular sentiment which merely needs to be organized," Kent declared. "Recommendations of the federal trade commission have been endorsed by leading farm, labor, consumers' and civic organizations of the country."

In addition to Kent, who is chairman, other members of the committee include:

Mrs. Florence Kelly, secretary of the National Consumers' League; Jackson Q. Ralston, counsel for the American Federation of Labor; C. D. Gustafson, chairman of the Farmers' National Committee on packing plants and allied industries.

CHICAGO THREATENED BY RAILWAY STRIKE

CHICAGO, July 25.—Arrival here today of W. D. Mahon, president of the street car men's union, was expected to bring to a head the threatened strike of 15,000 motormen, conductors and trackmen, which, if called, will practically paralyze the city's transportation systems, tying up both surface lines and elevated.

At the meeting today, to be attended by union officials, traction company heads and members of the state utilities commission, it was believed that unless a settlement was reached, or hope of one appeared, the men would be ordered out tomorrow. They have already voted overwhelmingly to strike.

AIR PASSENGER LINE

NEW YORK, July 25.—Daily passenger-carrying air flights between New York and Atlantic City will begin tomorrow morning. Three planes, accommodating three persons each, will maintain a schedule which calls for flying time of an hour and a half.

Henry Ford Not Anarchist, View
of Psychologist

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich., July 25.—An anarchist is "one who works for abolition of government," Right Rev. Chas. D. Williams, psychologist, said on the stand in the Ford dollar libel suit against the Chicago Tribune here today.

Williams said he saw nothing anarchistic in the Ford remark that "men with authority have wanted more authority and have seen no way of getting it except by violently seizing it."

Ford's statement, "why do vast masses of men allow themselves to be marched off to the slaughter, knowing it is in no good cause," was, the witness said, so common as to be commonplace in the early years of the war.

BOARD WILL FIX BLIMP CRASH DAMAGES

CHICAGO, July 25.—A new departure in settling outside of court for damages done in great disasters was seen today in the announcement of officials of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company of Akron, Ohio, that a commission of Chicagoans had been named to fix amounts to be paid families of the 39 dead and injured in the recent blimp tragedy here.

The announcement, made by G. M. Stadelman, vice president of the tire company, declared the company will pay without resistance any amounts the commission decided on. Families, however, are not required to accept the amounts, but have the opportunity "offered to save tedious court proceedings."

The commission, which has accepted, consists of Probate Judge Henry Horner, John H. Wignore, dean of the Northwestern University law school, and John J. Mitchell, president of the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank, where the tragedy occurred.

Seiberling Goes East to Settle Up Damage Claims

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 25.—President F. A. Seiberling of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, left Los Angeles today for Chicago to take up adjustment of damage claims arising from the recent crash of his company's big dirigible through the roof of the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank building, killing a dozen persons. Seiberling has been here on business.

Before leaving Seiberling said he had suggested the appointment of a commission composed of Governor Lowden of Illinois, Bishop Fellows and President J. J. Mitchell of the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank to adjudicate matters arising from the accident.

WILL QUESTION BALL ON BRUTAL TREATMENT

WASHINGTON, July 25.—In its investigation of cruelty to American soldiers in prison camps near Paris, the house sub-committee next week will question Sergeant Clarence S. Ball, now serving a sentence at Fort Jay, near New York.

Ball was convicted by a court martial for brutal treatment of soldiers while in charge of a section of prison farm No. 2, near Paris.

In a letter to Rep. Dallinger, Massachusetts, Ball admits he was "rough" with the soldiers in the prison, but said that "we either had to beat them up or be beaten up yourself." Ball will be questioned as to what superior officers ordered brutal treatment of the soldiers.

AGRICULTURAL BILL SIGNED BY WILSON

WASHINGTON, July 25.—President Wilson has signed the agricultural appropriation bill, it was announced at the White House today. The bill first presented to the president was vetoed because it contained a rider repealing the daylight saving law. Congress eliminated this provision.

FIRST STRIKE OF AVIATORS IS BEGUN IN EAST

Twenty Aerial Mail Pilots Demand Reinstatement
of Two Fliers

WANT SLOWER PLANES WITH SAFETY DEVICES

Men Dismissed When They Refused to Fly Alleged Dangerous Craft

WASHINGTON, July 25.—An investigation of the charges that the postoffice department failed to provide aviators with modern safety devices is asked in a resolution introduced in the House today by Representative Ramseyer of Iowa.

NEW YORK, July 25.—The first aviators' strike began here today when none of the aerial mail pilots appeared at Belmont Park, L. I., to take out the Washington and Chicago mails.

Twenty pilots employed in the aerial mail service had served notice on Otto Praeger, second assistant postmaster general, that unless two recently discharged pilots were reinstated they would refuse to take the planes out this morning.

The discharged men are Leon Smith and Hamilton Lee, who were relieved from duty after they refused to carry the New York-Washington mail Tuesday. They alleged the weather was bad, and that the machines furnished them were in dangerous condition. It is understood the postoffice department contends the planes were safe and that weather conditions were good enough for scores of other aviators to fly in this vicinity on the day in question.

The pilots also have other grievances, alleging their machines are unsafe, that they have been refused necessary safety appliances, and that they are given the same pay as mechanics who do not risk their lives.

The aviators were confident their strike would tie up both the New York-Washington and the New York-Bellefonte-Cleveland-Chicago routes.

The aviators, most of whom are former army flyers, asserted that since July 15, when a series of heavy rains began, there have been fifteen accidents, two of which resulted fatally for Pilot McCusker and Pilot Sanborn. They said their present machines have a minimum speed of one hundred miles an hour and "low visibility," being "dangerous to both pilots and public."

They ask slower and more stable machines.

Flier Leaves Washington 30 Minutes Behind Time

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The postal aviator flying from Washington to New York left Washington about 11 o'clock today, 30 minutes behind schedule, postoffice officials announced.

Officials also said the plane from Chicago to Cleveland would leave on time.

The department was awaiting definite word from Mineola before admitting that the aerial mail could not be brought to Washington.

BANK OF ITALY NOW IN FEDERAL RESERVE

NEW YORK, July 25.—The Bank of Italy has been admitted to full membership in the federal reserve bank, it was announced today. Its head offices are in San Francisco and it has twenty-four branches in eighteen California cities. It is the first important state bank in California to enter the federal reserve bank, the bank act that the state recently amended to permit the move.

Sailors In Trouble
Send Out S.O.S.
For "Mother" McColl

MRS. JEANNETTE MCCOLL
New York Woman Spending Much Time Giving Aid
to Navy Boys

NEW YORK, July 25.—Whenever a "gob" gets into trouble in New York he sends out S. O. S. calls for "Mother" McColl. The calls are never sent in vain and the sailors' "mother" is being kept busy every day.

Mrs. McColl has spent a great deal of her time helping the boys in and around New York and she makes a specialty of assisting those who run afoul of the law in one way or another. Not a few have been allowed to escape punishment by the intervention of the kindly woman who the police also have learned to love and respect.

The most recent appeal sent to "mother" is from a young sailor who is accused of stealing $1,000 from Vincent Astor. She is doing the best she can to get the lad out of the scrape and still let everyone be satisfied.

No matter whether a sailor is court-martialed, broke or accused of crime, "mother" is his friend, as she has proved repeatedly, particularly since the boys have been coming home from abroad.

SMASH AT HUNGARIAN RED FORCE IMMINENT

VIENNA, July 23 (Delayed).—Start of the Allied offensive against the Hungarian Red army appeared imminent today. A number of Allied officers inspected the Hungarian White army at Szegdin, with a view to co-operation. The White commander, Admiral Hortley, received the entente officers, who later went to the front in the region of the Tisza river, where the Reds are now attacking the Rumanians.

The Hungarian Red army, which Allied forces are expected to engage, consists of eight divisions, totalling 60,000 front line and 100,000 reserve troops. There are also 1,000 cavalrymen. Material includes 300 guns, 500 machine guns, 20 12 inch mortars, 23 airplanes, six monitors, four heavy armored motor cars and five light cars.

WILSON WILL BE ON COAST BY AUGUST 15

WASHINGTON, July 25.—President Wilson, according to callers today, said he will probably be in San Francisco August 15, while the Pacific fleet is there. The date of the President's departure from Washington still is uncertain, and it is not known whether the President will leave in time to speak on the way to the coast or will make speeches on his return.

BELIEVE LOS ANGELES WOMAN IS UNBALANCED

REDDING, Cal., July 25.—Angeline Jackson, 60, well dressed, was taken off a northbound passenger train here today, believed to be mentally unbalanced. Mrs. Jackson was en route from Los Angeles to visit her daughter Mrs. Alma Rogers, Portland. She is being held pending the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Rogers from Portland.

PRESIDENT WILL HOLD PACT TILL RETURN

Conciliatory Attitude Is Dropped; Lodge Request
Gets Rebuff

WILSON TO DISCUSS PROPOSALS OF TAFT

Strength of Reservations Demand Admitted By Nevada Senator

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Developments in the peace treaty fight today indicated President Wilson is abandoning his conciliatory attitude toward congress.

The resolution which Senator Lodge offered yesterday in the senate asking Wilson to produce the British-French-American defensive agreement, met with a rebuff at the White House today—although it has not yet been voted on by the senate. It was stated at the White House that Wilson would not take this document to the capitol until he returns from his speaking tour, probably six weeks hence.

The principal speech in the senate today was by Pittman, Nevada, who upholds Wilson and the treaty. Significance was attached to the fact that Senator Spender, one of those called to the White House today, was one of the first senators to learn of Taft's proposals for reservations to the league of nations. It was considered likely the president would discuss Taft's proposals with him.

Pittman Talks to Senate
Admitting the possibility that the senate may adopt reservations to the peace treaty, Senator Pittman, in his speech declared the treaty's fate rests in the hands of those demanding interpretations and explanations.

Pittman's speech is the first admission by an administration senator that the demand for reservations has any real strength.

"If reservations may be made that we have a right to feel certain will be accepted by all the other nations without involving reopening of the whole matter of peace negotiations, in my opinion such reservations will be approved by two-thirds of the senate," said Pittman.

"The fate of the league of nations does not rest with those senators who would destroy or emasculate the covenant, but with those who favor the league, but now have in mind ratification with interpretative reservations. These senators have nearly all indicated they will not do anything knowingly that would result in destruction of the league of nations. They are moved by no such desires. They are urged simply by fear lest some misunderstanding should arise in the future through indefinite language in the body of the treaty."

The Vital Question

"The vital question is whether qualified ratification of the treaty will send it back for re-negotiation and, if so, what the probable result of such action will be."

"If it is necessary that the treaty be approved by the senate, it is equally necessary that any amendment or reservation or interpretation added by any other government must receive senate approval."

Warning that counter reservations may be made by other powers, Pittman said:

"Japan's most bitter fight at the council table was to grant the league jurisdiction to prevent the United States, Canada and Australia from excluding Japanese from their territories under immigration laws. Her people are smarting under the alleged stigma. 'It is the most sensitive question in the Japanese empire. Think you the Japanese government will neglect the opportunity again to insist on reservations on this point if negotiations are ever re-opened?'"

How About Italy
"Think you the Italian parliament."

TREATY UPHELD IN SPEECH BY PITTMAN

President Wilson Will Hold
French Agreement Till

having the opportunity, would hesitate to place in the treaty reservations which they believe necessary to protect Italian interests at Fiume, Dalmatia and along the Adriatic."

The president resumed conferences with Republican senators today, inviting Spencer of Missouri and Warren of Wyoming to the White House.

Spencer is understood to be one of the first senators to receive the Taft letters recommending reservations to the league covenant.

The president is giving attention, it was said, to senate requests for information about peace negotiations. It is necessary for him to locate papers he brought back with him from France. The date of the president's projected trip is still uncertain, although indications at present are that he will not start before August 10. It may be sooner, if conferences with senators are cut short.

Plans for reviewing the new Pacific fleet have not been altered.

Treaty Reservation Needs
Shown By Taft, Is Claimed

BY L. C. MARTIN

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, July 25.—While senate administration leaders today declared William Howard Taft's suggestion of reservations will have no effect on the treaty fight, senators advocating reservations said the former president's attitude will convince the country as nothing else could of the absolute need for reservations.

The administration fight, Senator Hitchcock said today, remains just as it has been—a fight for unqualified endorsement of every word of the treaty and the league of nations.

While the Taft move continued today to hold senatorial interest, there was also much discussion of the new clash between the Republican senators and President Wilson over his failure to submit the specific French treaty and to answer three senate resolutions asking for information on the peace treaty.

The foreign relations committee today continued reading the treaty, which will be finished, at the present rate, early next week.

BILL WILL PROTECT GROWERS OF FRUIT

WASHINGTON, July 25.—California having led the world in co-operative horticultural and agricultural associations for the growing, preparing and marketing of fruit and other products of the land, two of her new Congressmen, Barbour of Fresno and Herman Gilroy, yesterday took steps to protect all such associations from any possible prosecution under a narrow interpretation of the Sherman or Clayton anti-trust law.

In Mr. Barbour's district the raisin association has been one of the most successful developers of this important food and fruit, and in Mr. Gilroy's district the prune growers have attained great perfection and have added greatly to the popularity of the fruit of the plum tree.

Orange, lemon, walnut and bean associations in Southern California have done wonderful work in the development of that section and this amendment to the law will protect them as well as all other co-operative organizations.

One of the things that brought this to a head was the prosecution of two dairy organizations in the East and following conferences with representatives it was decided to introduce a new bill to clarify existing laws and specifically exempt organizations of this class from the operations of the anti-trust laws.

Buys Speedboat For This Season, Plans
Faster One For '20

BALBOA, July 25.—W. W. Paden, Los Angeles capitalist, fell in love with Newport Harbor the first time he saw it and immediately wanted to get into the boating game, so bought the Rainbow from A. R. Powell of Azusa, a 16-foot beauty which is good for thirty miles an hour.

This boat is good enough for this year, inasmuch as he can't do better, Paden figured, but it won't do for next year, so he is planning to have a four-passenger boat built this winter which will make forty miles an hour, and he wants 'er done in time for next season.

Gradually, lovers of boating are finding that Newport Bay offers attractions not to be found elsewhere, and every week sees one or more new boats making their home in the harbor. Captain Sherman of the Arcadia balloon school, who recently bought Harry Wilson's beach bungalow, is having his fast speedboat shipped out from New York by rail and expects it to arrive within a week or two.

STRAUSS FOR LEAGUE
NEW YORK, July 25.—Oscar S. Strauss declared here last night in a speech that the League to Enforce Peace is in favor of the League of Nations covenant as it now stands.

WILL RETIRE AT 33 WITH GOOD ALLOWANCE

Naval Recruiting Officer Has Bright Prospect Government Service

W. P. Hughes, chief carpenter's mate, in charge of the local recruiting station, today re-enlisted in the navy for a four year term. His term expired by reason of his transferring from the regular service at the outbreak of the war to service during the period of the war.

By re-enlisting Hughes improves the opportunity for accepting the generous offer of the government for re-enlistment in the service. He will get a bonus of about $350 and his monthly pay will be increased $7 per month.

Hughes loves the navy. he has been in the service for nine years.

"I enlisted when I was seventeen years of age and they couldn't drag me out now," he declared today.

He enlisted at Newark, New Jersey, and when he has served sixteen years he may retire from the service with a monthly pension of $75. He will be thirty-three years of age when he has completed sixteen years of service. He has not been idle during his time of service, for he has used his spare moments and availed himself of opportunities to study for the customs service, and if he wants to retire from the navy at the end of sixteen years he is assured of a position in a customs house, with a salary of $225 per month, plus his retirement allowance of $75 per month.

"I maintain that what I have in store for me when I leave the navy is something pretty nice for a boy starting at 17 years of age and completing the service at the age I will," said Hughes.

He made the statement not in a spirit of boastfulness of his own success but in pointing out the opportunity a young man who enters the navy and improves the opportunities that are offered through periods of enlistment has.

Many men who today are holding important positions in civil life secured their education in their lines of endeavor through facilities at the disposal of naval men.

REDLANDS PIONEER WOMAN PASSES AWAY

REDLANDS, July 25.—Mrs. Thomas Dunn, a pioneer of the city, died at her home here last night, after being ill for months. She was 74 years old.

Mrs. Dunn was born in Tasmania, New Zealand, and when a girl went to the mining district of Australia with her parents. There she met and married Thomas Dunn, when she was 21 years old. Her oldest son, George, with whom she made her home, was born there and was ten months old when Mr. and Mrs. Dunn came to San Francisco on one of the fast clipper ships, being seventy-three days on the water.

They moved to Anaheim and lived there until twenty-three years ago, when she came to Redlands. She has two sons, who survive her, George Dunn and Robert J. Dunn, who live here.

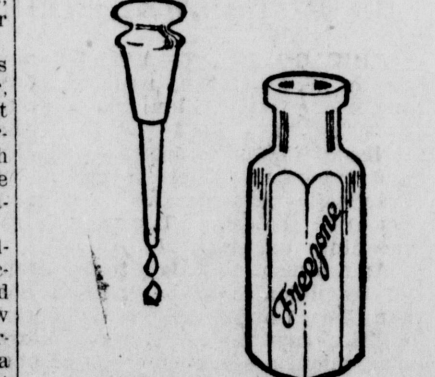

His Condition

"How's your husband getting along?" "Well, sometimes he's better and sometimes he's worse, but from the way he grows an' takes on when he's better, I think he's better when he's worse."

POLICY IN SIBERIA TOLD BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, July 25.—President Wilson today replied to the Johnson resolution asking for a statement of American-Russian policies.

The president told the senate in a statement that the United States intends to co-operate with the Allies in keeping open the Siberian railway. The people of Siberia can be protected from a return of chaotic conditions and absolute starvation only by keeping open this railroad, the president wrote in a long letter reviewing the whole Russian situation since the dispatch of American troops late in 1918.

The troops there now are aiding John F. Stevens, the American engineer who is in charge of keeping the railway open, Wilson said, and Stevens and the troops will come out of Russia at the same time.

The president did not indicate when this will be. He said the war department is preparing to send badly needed supplies both to the people of Siberia and to the American troops there.

FORMER SANTA ANANS IN UNUSUAL ACCIDENT

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jacobson, of 980 Elden avenue, Los Angeles, former residents of Santa Ana, and their daughter and two nieces, returning in an automobile from a trip to the north, had a narrow escape from death in a spectacular accident at Santa Barbara yesterday. While turning from Hollister avenue into Mission street, the steering knuckle of their machine broke, and in her confusion, Mrs. Jacobson, who was driving, put her foot on the accelerator, and sent the car bounding over the curb. It vaulted over a stone wall and stopped at an angle of 35 deg. in a sunken garden of a private home. The occupants remained with the car and were not injured. The machine was hoisted back to the road by an electric derrick. Fifteen or twenty years ago, Jacobson was a member of the firm of Jacobson Bros., harness dealers, in Santa Ana.

MOST FRUIT HE SEES IN EAST IS WESTERN

County Auditor W. C. Jerome Is on Way Home From Elks Grand Lodge

If eastern fruit has a superior flavor, County Auditor William C. Jerome of Santa Ana is having a hard time finding it, for nearly all of the fruit he has seen in the East came from California and Oregon.

Jerome is on his way home now from the grand lodge of the Elks, held at Atlantic City, to which he went as a delegate from Santa Ana lodge.

A letter from Jerome, written aboard the steamer McAllister on the Potomac river on July 20, has the following:

"Verne Bishop of El Centro, and I are on a return trip from Annapolis, Md., and I have two hours in which I will be passing scenery I saw coming down. I could not come in until I had a last look at Mt. Vernon on the Virginia side.

"It is Sunday and visitors are not allowed inside the Mt. Vernon grounds today.

"I shall never forget the trip coming down nor the feeling I had when opposite Washington's old home and tomb. The band struck up 'America.' Everyone stood with bared heads facing the hallowed spot and as the soldiers and sailors aboard were at attention.

"I have witnessed many such occurrences since leaving home. We attended the grand lodge at Atlantic City. The keynote of that great meeting was unselfish patriotism and the uplifting of local and national standards of living.

"From there we went to Boston and visited Lexington, Concord, Bunker Hill and all the old spots dedicated to the heroes of 1776. Then we went down to New York, where it was a lot more interesting to visit historic places and see the wonderful things men have done and are doing, than it was to go to their cafes and see them try to get a kick out of 2½ per cent beer.

"It would almost soften the heart of such a radical prohibitionist as you are to see the awful misery the dry spell has brought to our eastern brothers. They talk it, think it, and I believe dream it. They are worried sick about the vineyards, hop fields and barley men in California.

"When I tell them how dry we are, they look me over and find I am just as moist, on the outside as they, for although it has rained every day since we got here, still one can get up a perspiration kicking a sheet out of the way at midnight.

"We visited Philadelphia and studied more history, and then we went to Washington and its surroundings—the best of all.

"The East is beautiful at this time of year and we are enjoying our trip immensely.

"We intend going on south to Florida, stopping along the way and then home about August first.

"They ought to have a great corn crop in the East if rain is all it needs, but then wheat is not as good as it promised—too wet.

"Eastern people used to tell me about the flavor of eastern fruit, etc. Outside of a few Georgia cantaloupes and peaches and a few so-called sugar plums, we don't see any eastern fruit. It all has a California or Oregon wrapper on it.

"I felt like taking off my hat and saying, 'How do you do!' at the first stand I walked up to in New York when I picked up an orange and read 'Tustin' in big letters; then a cantaloupe with a proud sticker on it, 'Imperial.' The word California is a magic word here, including all the ones who are able to and do visit us yearly and they are all boosters."

City and County Briefs

Lieut. Walton Dismukes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dismukes, was recently transferred from the hospital at Mare Island to the Destroyer Alben on the Atlantic coast.

Lieut. Ben Blee, who is in command of sub-chaser No. 310, has been ordered to Juneau, Alaska, for the months of August and September. Lieut. Blee's family is with him at the present time.

C. B. Lane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lane of Orange, was unconscious for about twenty minutes Wednesday evening following a fall at the Long Beach bathhouse. Lane was running along the deck of the bathhouse when he slipped and fell, striking his head on the deck. After recovering consciousness he went to his home in Los Angeles. He is employed in the Southwestern shipyards.

The Board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States will be held in Los Angeles Friday and Saturday, August 2 and 3. Representatives of Southern California commercial organizations holding membership in the national body will meet with the directors and conferences will be held on matters pertaining to the interests of the Southland. The Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce is a member of the National Chamber.

Mrs. Anna S. Mitchell, 1002 North Van Ness, has sent to the Chamber of Commerce a fine lot of Prunus Pisardii or Parisian plum, a tree of which she has growing in her yard.

It was a Mr. Wright, employed by Chris McNeill of this city, and not Mr. McNeill, who ran down R. L. Scarborough at Orange, while the latter was riding his bicycle. The confusion in names probably was due to the fact that Mr. Wright is employed by McNeill.

Frank Chapman and family, who sold their home and left here a few months ago to return to their home in the East to remain, again are Santa Ana residents. They have bought the property at 2040 North Broadway and are having alterations made that will cost $500.

Commander Percy W. Foote, personal aide to Secretary of the Navy Daniels, and who will accompany the secretary to the coast and attend the big reception at San Pedro harbor when the Pacific fleet arrives, is a cousin of City Recorder Heathman. Commander Foote has been in the service for many years, and has been stationed on the Pacific coast most of the time.

W. Frank Harris, well known member of the real estate firm of Harris Bros., has moved his family back to Santa Ana, occupying the residence at 1609 North Main. The family has been living at Orange for the past three and a half years.

Rev. R. M. McKee, pastor of the Christian church of Fullerton, has received a letter from his brother, John McKee, residing at Zelma, Mo., stating that his married daughter, Mrs. Vera Fish, was killed in a storm there on July 11, and her little baby, three months of age, sustained a broken collar bone. No further details were contained in the letter but it is presumed that the death and injury were due to a cyclone.

Mrs. G. H. Richardson of Fullerton was badly cut about the head and face when an automobile driven by her husband collided with a machine driven by C. Secrest at Lenon and West Broadway, Anaheim, yesterday. There were several other occupants, but all escaped uninjured.

At the annual election of officers of the Theatre Owners Association recently held in Los Angeles, C. E. Walker, owner of the Princess and Lyric Theatres in Santa Ana, was elected second vice president of that association.

WINTERSBURG AND SMELTZER

WINTERSBURG AND SMELTZER, July 24. — Conrad Worthy and bride who was formerly Miss Pearl Porter of Huntington Beach, arrived here Tuesday from Bishop where they have been with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Porter who are spending a few months on their ranch at that place. The young people were quietly married May 28, while Mr. Worthy was at the Porter home on a week's visit. He returned home and remained a month without the least suspicion being aroused among friends or relatives as to the marriage having taken place, then returned to Bishop and only two weeks ago the secret was given out. Mr. and Mrs. Worthy are at present at Huntington Beach at the Porter home and have not yet fully decided on their future plans.

Donald Larter is spending several days this week at the Thompson home on the "water" ranch up Santiago canyon.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Elmer T. Worthy are expected home the 29th from their honeymoon trip which they are spending at Yosemite. Worthy will take up ranching upon his return. He has given up all idea of returning to his law practice and sold his law books before leaving. He contemplates purchasing a ranch in this vicinity.

Mrs. H. Larter visited Monday and Tuesday of this week with her sister, Mrs. Abel Solomon at Bell and upon her return home was accompanied by Mrs. Solomon who remained as her guest until Thursday. Mrs. Solomon's younger son, Stanley, who has been in France since the signing of the armistice, arrived home Thursday of last week, having received his discharge. Mrs. Larter, Miss Florence Larter, with their guests, Mrs. Solomon and Miss Mildred Donohue attended an all day meeting of the "Happy Workers" society of the Presbyterian church of Westminster on Wednesday. The pleasant affair was held at the home of Mrs. Samuel Dickey and Mrs. Solomon had the opportunity of meeting many old friends and acquaintances made during the years she resided at Westminster. The baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hauser has been ill this week.

GATHERING MOMENTUM

Just 150 years ago on St. Anne's Day, the eyes of white men first looked out upon the Santa Ana Valley.

The following day they came to the Santiago creek and the day after that to the Santa Ana river.

Traversing the plain, what thoughts were theirs? In their imaginations did they see a valley of orchards and farms and thousands of people coming and going?

The diary kept by Father Crespi
during the historic Portola expedition—
for it was Portola and his soldiers and the Franciscan padres who accompanied him who marched over the El Toro foothills from the south,
and on that day reached the valley
in which we today live—gives a hint
at their visions, an intimation that as they came to this new country
they looked forward to a day when it might be settled, cultivated and prosperous. Upon reaching the Santiago creek, which in those days
probably followed an old channel
northeast of rustin, Father Crespi wrote into his book that here was a place for a city, were it not for the fact that the creek dried up in late summer.

Though irrigation was well understood by the padres, though at their missions water was diverted from creeks and rivers and used in growing crops, Father Crespi could not then foresee what has since come to pass, but in his imagination he peopled a great city upon the banks of the Santiago.

It took a long time for the skein of history to be woven for our valley. Seven years after the Portola explorers passed this way, the mission at San Juan Capistrano was founded. Then came a long period of years during which the Franciscan mission was the only abode of white men in what is now our county.
Later came great land grants, and here and there Spanish grandees established their ranch homes.

In the late fifties arrived the German colonists at Anaheim, and with their coming began a new era in the county's history. Till then there had been little change in the face of the landscape. In the next fifteen or twenty years the breaking up of the old land grants progressed, irrigation on a wider scale was undertaken and the men and women whom we today
call our pioneers, got their foothold.
What has occurred since the arrival of J. E. Pleasants, James Mc-Fadden, W. H. Spurgeon, W. N. Tedford, Jacob Ross, Thomas Smith, Thomas Cozad, Columbus Tustin,
and those other sturdy pioneers, who arrived here in those early days, a half a century ago, who broke the land and took the chances that men take in new and untried places, is all quite familiar in a general way to most of us.

Growth and development were gradual. In the early seventies the ball set to rolling by the pioneers gathered momentum. Willows, sagebrush and cactus were torn away,
and cultivated fields and orchards
sprang up.

The momentum increased, and is still increasing. In the last ten years, what changes have we seen! With pumping plants, sugar factories, the development of crop industries, our growth has been far more rapid these last ten years than at any time since those white men first gazed out upon the valley.

Looking now to the future, knowing that we are started upon a new era of development, the momentum
that has gradually increased in force will take us forward in leaps and bounds. Just how far we will go, just how rapidly we progress, just how much we make out of this valley of ours rests with us. We have the momentum, and there is none who would prevent us from fulfilling our destiny perhaps conceived on St.
Anne's Day a hundred and fifty years ago.

TROLLEY LINES

The trolley lines of the United States, generally speaking, are in a bad way. A street railway expert says that they need $1,000,000 a year to enable them to meet public demands, two-thirds of it new capital and one-third to be used for refunding outstanding obligations. Needless to say, they have not been getting it.

The most obvious thing to do is to raise fares. This is difficult, however,
as the expert explains, because fares
in many cities are fixed by franchise
or municipal regulation, and the public is still imbued with the five-cent fare idea, "though the nickel fare was never very profitable, and it would be a dime today if it had kept pace with current depreciations." Still, the public is getting used to it, for dozens of cities have raised their fare rate

in the last few months, varying all the way from five to ten cents.

The situation is undeniably bad for most of the trolley companies. But one curious fact obtrudes itself into the argument. In the city of Cleveland, which has nearly 1,000,000 people and a system of street car lines
of large mileage, permitting very long rides, the public today is getting 11 rides for fifty cents, though paying an extra cent for transfer. The stockholders are paid a guaranteed dividend of six per cent, which may soon be raised to seven per cent. There is a surplus of about $1,000,000 in the safety-valve fund which automatically regulates the rate of fare. The fare has just been lowered from the straight five cents that has prevailed for a year or so. Employees have been granted a liberal raise, winning all their demands. The present rate of fare is said to provide enough money for every legitimate purpose, and there is no prospect of raising it in the near future.

Is Cleveland a freak town, able to do what no other city can do? Or are the trolley experts wrong about it, and is the little old nickel a just rate of fare after all, when a street car system has the water squeezed out and is managed efficiently under public supervision?

Here and There

The Public Library is just like other institutions in Santa Ana. It is growing. It has reached the point where the quarters provided for the library of twenty years ago are not adequate for the library of today. Naturally, too, Santa Ana wants its library to keep up with the city. There seems to be but one answer to the library's statement that additional funds are needed in the coming year's budget if it is to expand to meet the demands made upon it.

Will some one rise up in meetin' and tell us why it is necessary that the
P. E. crossing on West Fifth street remains, continues and is just as rough as it is?

If the present price of apricots had been in vogue continuously for a few years past, fewer apricot orchards
hereabouts would have been cut out.
Horace McPhee used to tell about paying his railroad fare with three lima beans. It'd only take two dried cots.

Now that we have a substantial bridge on North Main street, we wonder why we stood for the old bridge
so many years. We will feel the same way about the school assembly hall when it is built.

Home vs. Rent Columbus Dispatch

The man who sits down and figures cold bloodedly whether it is cheaper to own a home than pay rent doesn't understand what a home is. With many people it may be necessary to rent; circumstances may be such that it is impossible for them to own a home, although this is more seldom the case than one imagines. But where one could own a home if he desired and where he refuses to do so because he believes he can save a few dollars by renting—well, such a person really does not know how to live.

There is such satisfaction in propriety, such joy in possession, such interest in feeling that the premises are one's very own, that money ought not to figure in the process. There is something about owning a home
which cannot be written on paper—
a satisfaction that pays a dividend
every hour of the day.

Further, it is not just to the children to bring them up in rented houses
if it is possible to bring them up otherwise. The children may not realize it now; they may be getting along all right, apparently, but they are being robbed of blessed memories and they will not appreciate the money that is left to them in the future of a home
in order to accumulate it.

Arouses Admiration

National Republican
Johnson, of California, is another man who is growing before his colleagues and the country. Stepping abruptly into the Senate after a distinguished career as governor of this state, it was not easy for him to exchange the vigor of executive action
for the leisurely processes of the legislator, and he sat and listened and chafed in his seat for a long time.
The Senate fascination is now gradually overcoming him—for it is no light thing to exchange a state for a national audience.

But Johnson is not growing weaker,
because he likes the Senate better.
He has a mind of his own, and he is much given to direct attack along a chosen line, as witness his incessant harping upon "Get the boys out of Russia."

He ran for vice-president on the Progressive ticket with Theodore Roosevelt in 1912 and he has no thought of surrendering his ideals.

He strongly opposed to Penrose as chairman of finance and attended all the insurgent meetings, but when the insurgent meetings, and it became necessary to sink individual preferences for the welfare of the party, he met the test
with a frank statement of his position,
of his opposition to Penrose as representing a different school of economics and of his pledge to take no action that would embarrass the Senate organization.

Said another elder Senator of Johnson's speech in the conference: "If all the so-called Progressive Senators had the fairness and far-sightedness
of Hiram Johnson, the Republican party would be facing less trouble than now confronts it."

Safety First!

Build! Build! Build, Now!

Real estate men say that never before have they had so many inquiries regarding Santa Ana and Santa Ana property, as they are now having.

Strangers arriving here with the purpose of locating say that where-ever they have been in Southern California they have heard people say that Santa Ana's prospects for future growth and development are the best of any city its size in the state.

Every real estate agent knows of a number of instances in which families have desired a location in Santa Ana, but, arriving here, could find no place suitable to rent.

Frequently they have gone away because there were so few places presented to them as open to purchase.

Santa Ana's growth is being retarded because of a lack of residences to rent and of residences for sale.

It is a condition for which there is but one remedy. Build more residences.

Several months ago the Register began urging the construction of more residences, and at that time it declared again and again that building materials would go up in price, that there was nothing to be gained by waiting. Building materials have gone up, and all available information points to further advances.

Now is a good time to build. Santa Ana is bound to go ahead.
There will be a demand for the rental or sale of every residence constructed.

With a widespread and growing interest in Santa Ana, it is time to build to meet that interest.

Santa Ana cannot, must not, stand still. It is going ahead. It is going to seize this golden opportunity for growth and development, and the opening wedge lies in carrying out of a slogan: "Build! Build!
Build, now!"

The Church and The Labor Problem

One of the finest statements on the issues of capital and labor that had been enunciated in this country up to that time was adopted by the Methodist general conference at Minneapolis in 1912,
and the document was largely the work of former Lieutenant Governor A. J. Wallace of Los Angeles. Methodism has again sounded a note on this matter that will compel attention and respect; and this is the statement adopted at the great centenary convention at Columbus a few days ago. Another Californian had an important part in shaping this utterance—Dr. George W. White of San Francisco, formerly a pastor
in Southern California and president of the University of Southern California for a time. The statement follows and is to be warmly commended for its sane spirit and clear recognition of the mutual rights of labor and capital.
It is the putting into effect of this spirit that will save the country from bolshevism.

The marked condition of social and industrial as well as political unrest and upheaval throughout the world is now passing,
calls for the best thought which the church can give. While much of this condition is a direct result of the war, it is also a revelation disclosed by the war of things which have been in existence, but have not been so clearly seen.

The only wise thing for the church to do is to face these problems with the same courage it has shown in other great issues. Closing the eyes will find no solution.

In the study of causes it is clear that there are grave inequalities
of opportunities facing many men and serious inequalities in the distribution of the products of their toil.

The privileges of self-development, spiritual and intellectual,
are denied to multitudes of toilers,
both for themselves and their families, because of the hard conditions under which they must labor for their daily bread.

Every man is, under God, entitled to something more than a bare living for himself and his family, if he be sober and industrious. The church, commissioned of its great head, to preach "abundant life" for all, cannot be indifferent to the deplorable condition
mentioned.

DIAMONDS

If you have a diamond that you do not wear why not sell it and buy something that you will really enjoy. As manufacturing jewelry using diamonds constantly we can afford to pay highest market prices.

THE CRAFT SHOP
3rd Floor O. T. Johnson Bldg. 4th and Broadway, Los Angeles, Calif.

The church must regard the laborer as a man, not a machine; as a living soul, not a commercial commodity, to be purchased on the market. This is essential for the common good of society, as much as for the welfare of the individuals directly concerned, for the essence of civilization is found in the value placed upon human life. This is also the genius of the gospel of Christ, upon which alone true civilization can be built. It is the business of the church to set up the kingdom of God in the earth, that is, to bring about such conditions that each man will have his chance to reach his best estate.

To this end the church is under obligation to encourage a better understanding between employers and employees, so that whatever rights are claimed by one shall be enjoyed by the other. In other words, it must strenuously inculcate the principle that employers and employees, in their very nature, are partners, not competitors; allies, not enemies. On no other basis can permanent harmony between them be established.

This means not only the democratization of industry, but its Christianization also. It means that power, either political, economic or industrial, shall not be monopolized by one class to the detrimet or defrauding of another. Indeed, class distinctions must disappear if a true Christian civilization is ever to be realized.
This only is the true democracy for which the world waits. The Church of Christ must prepare the way for this by recognizing no barriers of class or race and by encouraging wider development of class consciousness.

The church must be interested
in all men, in all the ranks of life.
It must have an equal ministry to all, devoid of partisanship or favoritism. It must be as much concerned in the wages of the poor as in the wealth of the rich. It must see the menace to society in those that have too much, as well as in those who have too little. There are encouraging signs that the great movements of the times are toward the goal above described.
The lessons of common brotherhood, born of the common peril of the great world conflict just ended, will not easily be forgotten.

THE CHEERFUL CHERUB

"I am the captain of my soul."
I fain would sail on peaceful streams,
But I must brave
the sea of life—
And, oh dear
me, the submarines!
Amen!

For Good Measure

By the Editor

If there are those among the readers of the Register who are inoculated with Bolshevism—who believe that government is merely repression and oppression, that business can be run without trained executive guidance and control—I commend to their careful perusal Booth Tarkington's play now running serially in the Saturday Evening Post, entitled "The Gibson Upright."

Bosses, of course, are good, bad and indifferent—just like workmen. But most any kind of a boss is better than no boss—just as an indifferent or a poor workman is better than no workman at all. A horse trots best when in harness, provided the harness is not too heavy and is not a misfit, for the harness provides for the transmission of power, and implies intelligent guidance and wise guardianship. One man cannot both do the pulling and hold the reins. One man cannot well both propel the boat and steer.

It is justly charged against modern factory labor, that the worker neither plans his work nor completes the product of it; that he can neither see its defects nor take a pride in its excellence. Yet such monotonous labor does not necessarily extirpate the individuality of the laborer, nor make of him a mere machine. "A specialty,"
said Professor Palmer, "can be a window through which we look out on all the world." One subject, deeply studied, gives us clues and analogies to many others, gives us membership in the freemasonry of those who have mastered something, and develops the power to respect and the right to be respected.

Howard Turner of the First National Bank has a grouse at a man who told him that Iowa's corn crop last year was of greater value than the combined value of all the products of California. Howard doesn't believe it.
Neither does he believe what another man told him—that the poultry product of Missouri is of more value than any other one crop or product. He doesn't believe it is possible that the chickens and eggs of old Missouri are of greater value than—say, mules or hogs or corn or cattle. Who knows?

Speaking of mules, and apparently confirmative of Turner's scepticism
as to that chicken story, my "old home" paper that came today tells of the sale of four Boone County mules for $2200.

Without doubt this surpasses all previous records in mule sales in America. Eight hundred dollars for a pair of mules was the previous high water mark in Boone County, but in this record sale Bob Glenn got $1,000
for one pair of his hybrids and $1,200
for the other. Each pair are full sisters and each pair were three and four years old, respectively. All four were red sorrels, of faultless type and conformation. They were about 16 hands high, and each pair weighed between 2,800 and 3,000 pounds.

Santa Ana, Cal., July 24, 1919.

Editor Register:

No doubt the War Risk Insurance Bureau faced a gigantic task when organizing to serve the beneficiaries of the dead soldiers of the late war.

But it is not an insuperable task.
There is nothing in its nature unam-enable to system, efficiency and conscience.

By states, alphabetically, every beneficiary can be reached sooner or later and receive the bequest of his dead,
regularly and promptly.

There was some excuse for delay at first. There is less and less excuse every day that passes. For ample time has passed for a perfect organization.

Still, the complaint is general and insistent, that beneficiaries had to wait, most of them six months for the initial payments, and have had to wait 60 to 90 days for the monthly payments provided for under the War Risk Insurance Act.

It may be that the test for service
in the bureau has been political, when it ought to have been—in the sad nature and urgency of the case—strictly professional. But whether this is so or no, it is certain that demoralization is due in the War Risk Insurance Bureau unless some radical change is made.

In this connection, may I be allowed to make, through your paper, the following suggestions:

1st—Decentralize the War Risk Insurance services, and locate War Risk Insurance Offices in EACH state. This will reduce the task to handable size
and increase the chance of accurately locating missing beneficiaries.

Or, alternatively,
2nd—Let Congress pass an Act to pay the face value of each policy to each beneficiary.

The alternative proposition will save $3800 interest on each policy of $10,000 or a gross sum in interest alone of about $38,000,000.00 to the country. Further, it will also save the tremendous expense of sustaining
the War Risk Insurance Bureau in its

They were standing near a pair of free scales in front of a shoe store,
arguing the question of which weighed

One climbed on the scales and triumphantly announced, "a hundred and

Then the other stepped on the plat-

"Hey, take off that coat," said the first.

The second, removing his coat, placed it over his arm and examined the

"See?" he said. "A hundred and

The other wore a downcast look.—

A BRACKEN SONG

If you would see the rarest brown
that ripens up the year—
The russet trimming autumn's gown
Most richly with the sere—
Then take my hand and come with me
Across the happy moor,
And see the bracken broidery
Flame out along its floor.
There's fire along the beechen
hedge;
Brown all the nut-fruit turns;
By many a bush-hung granite ledge.
The fairy leafage burns;
But say, do any berry hold
Such amber for these days?
Doth any wood lift ruddy gold
In such a mighty blaze?
The sea of fire sweeps, frond by frond,
O'er many a near and far
Into the rainbow-wrapped beyond.
From dawn till evening star:
Oh! who shall grieve for June gone by.
Who August harvests miss,
When passing where the green
grows dry
In such decay as this?

For Returned Soldier

A big public reception was tendered last evening at Balboa to Shelby R. Coon, formerly of Balboa, who arrived yesterday from overseas. He was a member of the 100th Engineers in the famous Dixie Division. He is the son of Mrs. Mary Coon, now of San Pedro.

For Americanization

A meeting was held yesterday afternoon at the City Hall, where Parent-Teacher workers from Santa Ana and other parts of the county listened to Mrs. Charles Aken of San Francisco talk on the subject, "Americanization."

Mrs. Aken is state Americanization Chairman of the California Congress of Mothers and P. T. Associations, and is also connected with governmental work along Americanization and Citizenship lines.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. G. H. Goodale of Anaheim, County President of the Parent Teachers organization. Mrs. Aken laid particular stress upon the necessity for making good American citizens of the foreigners in the United States, and declared that the Parent Teachers' Association have before them the possibility of doing a wonderful part of the work. The schools, declared Mrs. Aken, are the logical channel through which both children and adult foreigners are reached.

The child is taught the ideals of American citizenship from the primary grades up, and through the child his parents are reached. "The Parent Teachers' organization," said Mrs. Aken, "is the most democratic organization in America, for, unlike the Daughters of the Revolution and other American Associations, eligibility to membership depends upon no qualifications except a love for and an interest in childhood."

The foreign women are the greatest problem of Americanization workers. The children absorb the American ideas in the school, the men gather it in the saloon and in the labor unions, but the foreign mother is in the background. An organized effort to bring her into touch with Americanization through the Parent Teachers' Association will be productive of wonderful results. If the Parent-Teachers allow the chance to do this important work to slip from their grasp, they will fail in one of the biggest problems ever set before them.

"Physical education plays its important part in the work of making good citizens, and it was the ability to play well and to use team work effectively that made the American soldier so powerful a factor in winning the war."

Mr. J. A. Cranston, city superintendent of schools, followed Mrs. Aken. He emphasized the need for a definite program of Americanization work for the coming year. "Our local Americanization problem is, of course, the Mexican problem," said Mr. Cranston. "We must show the Mexican that we need him, and that he needs us. As far as it is possible, we must make the Mexican our neighbor. If we love him at a distance we don't get very far with him. We must work with him as best we can. The best way to reach the Mexican, as well as other parents, is through the school. No better evidence of this is needed than the full house that attended the convention."

A quiet wedding ceremony read at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Bowen of 437 Maple avenue, Orange, at eight o'clock last evening Miss Caroline Bowen becoming the bride of W. A. Scott Thompson of Los Angeles. The service was read by Rev. Bentley of the Eastside Christian church of Long Beach, an old friend of the families.

Proceeding the service, several musical selections were given by Mrs. Rydberg and while she softly played a wedding march the couple took place beneath a canopy of ferns. They were attended by the sister and brother-in-law of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Williams of Santa Ana. Mrs. Williams' gown of pink and bouquet of pink sweet peas harmonized beautifully with the decorations of pink and white daisies. The bride wore a lovely gown of white lace over white satin and carried Bride roses.

The wedding and reception were attended only by relatives of the two families. Shortly after the reception Mr. and Mrs. Thompson left by motor for a short northern trip. Upon their return they will make their home in Highland Park, Los Angeles, where the groom is in business.

Mr. Thompson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Thompson of East Fourth street. He lived here for many years before going to Los Angeles, where he became engaged in his present occupation. Both have hosts of friends who will extend hearty congratulations.

PHIL DOUGLASS IS SECURED BY M'GRAW

Deal Should Practically Cinch Pennant For the Giants, Is the Belief

BY H. C. HAMILTON (United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, July 25.—The National League has made another contribution to John McGraw's struggle to win a pennant.

Yesterday Phil Douglass, one of the best pitchers in the league, was traded to the Giants by the Cubs, who took in return Dave Robertson, outfielder. Recently Branch Rickey traded Frank Snyder, one of the best catchers in baseball, for Fred Schupp, a useless pitcher.

Robertson will fill a hole in the Cubs' outfield very nicely, but Fred Mitchell neglected to state what he expects to do to plug the hole made through the loss of Douglass.

The deal should practically cinch the pennant for the Giants. The week spot on the New York club has been its pitching staff. Benton and Barnes have worried along with practically the entire burden on their shoulders.

The transfer of Robertson weakens the Giants not a whit for he has not played ball for a year, declining to report to New York.

Douglass has been a wanderer since he first entered the National League. First with Brooklyn, he was traded to Chicago several years ago, then spent a term in the minors before returning to stardom. His refusal to keep in condition was his main trouble and he seems to have overcome that.

Sharpe, Former Yale Star Returns To Coach Teams

Old Eli's Football Future Looks Bright; to Start Squad Sept. 10

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., July 25.—Dr. Al Sharpe is returning to his alma mater. Yale has named its old gridiron and diamond hero chief of all athletics. It's a big job, but Sharpe is a big man.

Years and years ago Al Sharpe was one of the fleetest of foot, cleverest and nerviest of athletes at Old Eli. He thrilled the stands with his spectacular plays. And then he had to forsake the school he loved best and work for another. For several years Sharpe has turned out creditable ball teams at Cornell. He developed all-American stars.

In the meantime Yale has been struggling along—experimenting here and there in an effort to find the winning combination. Finally it was decided to send for Sharpe. He is to have charge of all athletics and will have plenty of help in coaching the various teams.

The University of Chicago for years has been a success with the one-coach system. The Chicago athletic head is Alonzo Stagg. The Maroons have been strong on gridiron, diamond and track. Illinois has an athletic head in George Huff, but Huff only coaches the football team. Bob Zupke coaches football, Harry Gill track, and Jones the basketball five. It's the most formidable coaching quartet in the west.

Yale's football prospects this fall are fine. Sharpe will start the squad Sept. 10.

The Material and Moral Value —of— Good Architecture

Editor Register:

In the interest of a bigger, better, healthier, happier and more beautiful Santa Ana, may I commend to the individual and the community the thought and ideal that underlie the subjoined editorial from the "Register," and urge their practical adoption, application and effectuation.

There is nothing of greater material value to an individual or a community than the natural beauty that may be preserved and perpetuated, and the artificial beauty—or, perhaps I should say, the beauty of art—that may be wrought by the saving grace of good taste and scientific skill in the construction of homes. And it goes without saying that the moral and spiritual value of good architecture are priceless jewels in the crown of any family or any city.

ARCHITECTURE

(Editorial From the Santa Ana "Register" July 24)

Few vocations bring with them a higher or more concentrated sense of creative power than that of architecture. Since the uprearing of Babel's tower stuccoes in stuttering speech; since the days of Athens' greatness, when the eloquence of Pericles was sculptured in wood and stone, declaring the glory of Pallas; since the days when Galileo, from bending Pisa's heights, measured the steps of wandering worlds, man has cemented the epochs of growth in stone and mortar.

Art is only Nature with her face so brightly washed that in it she beholds her own image. Nature fortifies her possessions of rock-built strongholds, chiseled and painted by her own hand-maidens—the elements. With plastic touch men mock the stony fingers, straying afield into concerts of beauty or caprice, and call it art. But every new-hewn block is an accent of yearning for greater nearness to the master builder, Nature.

Concerning Market Conditions

For over fifty years I have been selling men's wear; for the past thirty-eight years I have operated my own retail business.

Never before in all these years have I found it as hard to purchase in the wholesale markets as it is today.

Desirable goods are very scarce; prices are firm, and there appears to be no relief in sight as concerns the lowering of prices.

You are probably aware of the reasons for this unheralded condition. The heavy foreign demands on this country immediately following the signing of the Armistice last November, bared the American market. In many instances factory products were bought up completely for one or as many more years as the foreign purchaser could bargain for. Then, there are the more important questions of labor shortage and increased cost of labor, both of which are helping to make conditions the more acute.

Shorter working hours; no immigration for the past five years, has cut off the principle source of labor supply.

It will be awhile yet before we will know where we stand. In the meantime, while we shall attempt always to meet your wants we know that it may not at times be possible. So we are taking this means of asking your forbearance.

At present our stocks are complete, and, by anticipating present conditions some time ago, we are now happily in position to not only take good care of you but to actually save you money on the purchase of wearing apparel.

'Round Coast League Bases

Home runs: Shick, Seals; Bohne, Lane, Oaks; Maggart, Sheely, Bees.

The Beavers had to be satisfied with four hits off Jim Scott, the Seals winning 7 to 2.

The Oaks took two games from the Bees. The first was captured 6 to 2, and the second 11 to 8.

Arbuckle's gang gathered in their third straight from the Rainers, 10 to 2.

The Angels finally stopped the Senators by steady pitching from Curly Brown, 3 to 2.

DALTON-HAYNIE BOUT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—Steve Dalton will face Frankie Haynie in the main event at Dreamland tonight. Haynie covered himself with glory last week by beating Johnny McCarthy. McCarthy will meet Harry Shuster. Bill Lavin will swap punches with Frank Dolan.

Watching the Scoreboard

Yesterday's hero—Al Sothoron. He passed Jackson to fill the bases and lost a ball game to the White Sox, 1 to 9, when Felsch whanged out a single.

Walter Johnson pitched. That's the reason for a 1 to 0 triumph by the Senators over the Athletics.

The Giants were victors in a base running contest over the Braves, 7 to 6.

The Brooklyn and Philadelphia clubs went 11 innings to determine who was better in a 7 to 6 game. The Phillies were.

Detroit crept closer on the heels of the fast disappearing Yankees when they walloped the Indians, 4 to 2.

The Yankees piled up a three run lead and then kicked off a ball game to the Red Sox, 4 to 3.

The Reds worried another victory out of the Pirates 3 to 1.

COLOR LINE IN DEEDS IS HELD INVALID

Judge Finds Clause For Not Reselling Property Will Not Stand

LOS ANGELES, July 25.—Clauses in deeds to California land providing that purchasers cannot resell the property to Chinese, Japanese or negroes are invalid, Appellate Judge Finlayson, held in a decision handed down today. Attorneys stated hundreds of California deeds are affected.

Judge Finlayson, explaining his legal opinion, said he based his ruling on the old common law that "a man cannot give and at the same time not give title to property."

The decision was made in a case wherein the Guarantee Title and Trust Co. of Los Angeles had sold land on a deed providing the property should not be resold to negroes and if it were sold to a negro title would revert to the company.

H. L. Garrott, a negro, purchased the property and the trust company sued him to recover possession of the land. Judge Finlayson ruled the clause in the deed against transferring title to a negro was invalid and decided the case against the company.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Trouble. Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by flat, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and flat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bismarck Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

CHILDREN WILL RETURNED YANKS ARE OFFERED TRAINING

Reports From Over Country Indicate Task Hailed With Joy

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The children of America, enlisted in the United States School Garden Army, are put upon their honor to bring to harvest every crop that has been planted, according to a communique just issued from Washington headquarters of the U. S. S. G. Bureau of Education, Department of the Interior.

The little soldiers, who carry over their shoulders the hoe and rake, "the tools by which human society has built its fabric," are called upon to "see it through," to tend faithfully every crop already planted, and to carry out the enlistment pledge to "raise one or more food crops during the season of 1919."

Lead to Bank

Garden paths lead straight to the savings banks windows, and the young gardeners tread these paths every week, while in the school-supervised home garden it is pointed out that there is the making of the finest community spirit—the spirit of one flag and one language—that the world has ever seen. In a message from Washington headquarters it is emphasized that in the garden the child learns to help pull the load, and the Commissioner of Education says that "while it is not good for children to be ground in the mills, sweated in the shops, or buried in the mines, it is good for them to work joyously out of doors, with their feet in the soil, their heads in the sunshine, and their lungs filled with good, fresh air; to work until they are hungry and tired and will eat heartily and sleep soundly as a result. This kind of work gives strength of muscle, steadiness of nerve, a strong pulse-beat, a clear eye, and strength of endurance."

The message addressed to the millions of boys and girls in the garden ranks in the United States, Porto Rico, Hawaii, and Philippine Islands, and to the 50,000 garden teachers of the United States, says: "To fail to bring to harvest that which has been planted is immoral. School days for the year are over, and millions of boys and girls will be turned loose with no provision for using their time constructively either in recreation or work."

Must Not Be Neglected

"School gardens and school-supervised home gardens will furnish the greatly needed opportunity for constructive employment. Gardens must not be neglected during the summer months. No surer way could be devised of killing the great garden movement than to allow the weeds to destroy the crops already started by the boys and girls."

"Teachers should remain at their work until harvest time. This is being done by many teachers, and if it can be done by all, will eliminate any chance of failure. Garden teachers cannot afford to have failure overtake their work."

Reports received at Washington from every section of the United States and territorial possessions indicate that the most intense enthusiasm prevails in the ranks of the young gardeners, and already garden fairs and exhibits have been held in many of the states, with arrangements being perfected for similar exhibits in northern, eastern and western states. Weekly garden markets are maintained by many divisions of the United States Garden Army, and there is emphatic warrant for believing that the record of $15,000,000 of food-stuffs produced by the children of the U. S. S. G. A. in 1918 will be more than doubled.

MILITARY FUNERAL FOR LIEUT. HANKEY

A military funeral was held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock for Lieut. Howard Hankey, son of J. A. Hankey, who died following an operation at the Letterman hospital, San Francisco, on Monday.

The body arrived at two o'clock yesterday afternoon, accompanied by an attendant bringing Lieut. Hankey's personal effects, and with the folds of Old Glory completely covering the casket.

Rev. P. F. Schrock preached the funeral sermon, pointing out that accomplishments, not merely days, mark the span of life, and that death is really a change only from one room to another. Maurice Phillips sang, with Alan Revill at the piano. Pallbearers, all in uniform and comrades of Lieut. Hankey, were Russell Coleman, Elmer Worthing, Charles D. Swanner, Dr. John Wehrly, Maurice Enderle and Howard Timmons. Taps was blown at the grave in Santa Ana cemetery by Donald Hopkins, also an ex-service man.

Among the many who attended the services were Miss Nadine Crump of Los Angeles, Southern California head of the University Extension service, and close friend of Lieutenant Hankey; his uncle, E. S. Johnson, and family; of Rivera; his uncle, H. D. Clark, daughter and son of Riverside, and J. A. Armitage and daughters.

A perfect bank of beautiful flowers

WASHINGTON, July 25.—A distinct step forward in the work of securing employment for discharged soldiers and sailors has been taken. Colonel Arthur Woods, assistant to the secretary of war, has made public the first list of great manufacturing concerns throughout the country willing to take discharged soldiers who heretofore have been unskilled men, and train them in special trades, paying them good wages while at work learning something better.

The Merchant Shipbuilding corporation, at Hiram, Pa., has written the following letter to Colonel Woods, as a sample of what is now offered the returned fighting men, in which 300 ambitious young ex-service men are called for, who are willing to begin work at from 46 to 58 cents an hour:

"I have your letter of July 2d, addressed to the Merchant Shipbuilding corporation, regarding our taking soldiers and sailors who are in need of special training, to fit themselves for skilled work. In reply I wish to say that we have men doing this very thing on an extensive scale since early in the winter, and have taken on in addition to our own employees hundreds of ex-service men, who are rapidly being trained and promoted to higher positions. We can use a large number in addition to these which we now have, and would be very glad to have you direct to us two or three hundred husky, ambitious ex-service men who weigh at least 140 pounds, and who are willing to start work at from 46 to 58 cents per hour."

Easy to Place

"We have found," said Colonel Woods, "that skilled men are comparatively easy to place, but that the difficult problem has been to secure satisfactory positions for unskilled men. This large class of ex-service men, because of their army experience and training, are much more ambitious than they were before they entered the war, but lack in many cases the skill in order to hold places as expert and skilled workers. A large number of America's leading industrial plants have already established industrial training classes and 'vestibule schools' through which it is possible for men of this type to become skilled workers on the job, while receiving wages that will support him. A considerable amount of work was done by the United States training service under the department of labor during the war to aid in the establishment of such training classes in plants, but on July 1st this service was discontinued. A great many plants, however, realizing the importance and value of such training classes, are continuing the work, and many are ready to do so."

Colonel Woods' office has made the first list of concerns which have work for discharged service men, and will give vocational training along with employment, so that eventually the men can work into better pay. In each case a better job is waiting for the men in the same plant as soon as they complete their training.

The demand for skilled labor is now so great that such firms are glad to give the training in order to get better men. Here follows the list of those who have volunteered to train soldiers for better positions while paying them, and men interested should apply personally to the firm nearest their home:

FAVOR DISTRICT FOR WATERING BEACH MESA

Project To Cost $250,000 Put Under Motion At Mass Meeting

Property owners on the Huntington Beach mesa are enthusiastic over the prospect for the organization of an irrigation district to develop water for about 2500 acres of ground for which water is not now available. At a mass meeting held at the high school last evening it was decided to proceed with the organization with all possible haste.

T. B. Talbert, Chairman of the Board of Supervisors, was made temporary chairman of the meeting, and after a full discussion of the project, including a statement of the legal phase presented by Attorney A. W. Rutan of this city, a committee was appointed to investigate and file at once upon the water source from which the district hopes to obtain its water supply.

Geo. F. Fowler, Joe Zavra and A. G. Thornton were appointed on the committee. County Surveyor J. L. McBride presented a map, data and estimate of the cost of the work. He also showed the boundaries of the proposed district, which will include about 2,500 acres. It is estimated that the cost for instituting the system will be about $100 per acre, or $250,000.

Ed. Stanley, irrigation engineer, estimated the supply from the source that seems available to the district to be 430 inches.

Talbert expressed the belief that by securing irrigation water the value of the lands under the district would increase 200 per cent.

H. B. Woodruff and J. B. Cleghorn of Harper were present and told of the methods for organization in the district at Harper.

$56,000 REALTY ELTON CHANGES HIS DEAL. TUSTIN, CLOSED

Walter A. Cook Disposes of Fine Piece of Property on Prospect Avenue

Lawrence Wakeham, prosperous farmer of the Greenville section, is going to make the first move of his life, and that move will take place in a short time when he goes to Tustin to take up his home on the handsome place of Walter A. Cook, on Prospect avenue.

He has been casting covetous eyes on the property at Tustin for some time with the result that he and Cook got together, whereby Lawrence separated himself from $56,000 and Cook relinquished all claim to the eighteen-acre Valencia grove. The deal was completed today.

Wakeham was born on the old Wakeham place at Old Newport, the section now known as Greenville, and he continued to make his home there after his mother and sisters left the place. It is the only home he has ever known, and his advent into the world in the "gospel Swamp" dates back forty-one years ago.

He has been raising beans and hay all his life, and now he is going to add citrus culture to his line of farming endeavor.

Walter Cook bought ten acres of his Tustin place five years ago, and it now has four-year-old Valencia trees on it. Two and a half years ago he bought eight acres adjoining and Valencia trees on it are now two years old.

The first thing he did after buying the properties was to grub out the old orchards and plant new. He has made many vast improvements in the place. A new and modern ten room house was completed about two years ago. It is a concrete residence, and one of the show places of the Tustin district. The pretty house and neat and well-kept grounds of the ranch have always been admired by passersby.

He paid $19,000 for the two pieces of property. The difference between the buying price and the selling is not all profit, for Cook has spent many hundreds of dollars in bringing the place to the state of perfection of today. Cook operated a lease on the San Joaquin ranch for many years before buying the Tustin property, and has continued to grow beans on the ranch. He still is operating there.

He and his family have made no definite plans as to where they will move—whether into Santa Ana or out to the San Joaquin ranch.

ASK COUNTY SEALER TO ATTEND SCHOOL

A request that the Board of Supervisors send County Sealer of Weights and Measures George McPhee to the state school of instruction to be held at Oakland August 27-28-29 was received today from Charles G. Johnson of Sacramento, superintendent of the California weights and measures department. Johnson points out that on account of war conditions no school has been held for three years, but that the public now fully appreciates the work of the department and it is necessary that the county sealers become thoroughly informed on all phases of their jobs so that they can render the best service to their respective communities.

COURTHOUSE NOTES

Edwin Zerbe pleaded guilty to battery before Justice Cox and was sentenced to 90 days in the county jail. The charge was preferred by his wife, who said Zerbe beat and choked her. They live at Orange.

Adolf Stanke was arrested, charged with non-support of his wife, and his examination was set for July 29 at 10 a. m. He was released on his own recognizance.

PASADENA BAPTISTS ON STRAWBERRY PEAK

PASADENA, July 25.—Fifty members of the Baptist Young People's Union of Southern California are tonight encamped near the summit of Strawberry Peak, far back in the mountains. They are attending the ten days' encampment of the organization, which is being held at Switzer's Camp, in the headwaters of the Arroyo Seco, and today ascended Strawberry, one of the highest peaks in the range. Pack animals and guide accompanied the party and they camped near the top. The return will be made tomorrow. The B. Y. P. U. encampment is to continue until next Tuesday.

SNOW PREDICTED FOR SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

LOS ANGELES, July 25.—That the former German Kaiser will soon be delivered, with his wife and one son, to the Entente; that war with Japan is inevitable "for the safety of the white race"; and that a severe frost-killing winter for Southern California, accompanied by snow, is imminent, were among prognostications included on cards received yesterday by county officials from J. J. Boatman. "A. E. T. E." Boatman is known throughout this vicinity for his "prophecies," which information reaches the public in general through the medium of printed post cards.

SANTA ANA WILL SEND TEN MEN TO OAKLAND

Thirty California Guardsmen to Compete In Rifle Shoot, Fourteen to Go East

Thirty National Guardsmen of California are going to compete in a state rifle shoot at Oakland on July 27-28-29-30, and fourteen of these men will be sent to Trenton, New Jersey, as the California team in the National Guard competition.

And the beautiful thing about it is that in spite of the fact that there are now six guard companies in the state, a third of the Oakland competitors, or ten men, will take part from the Santa Ana company.

Orders to send ten men to Oakland and to be there themselves were received today by Captain A. E. Koepsel, commanding the Santa Ana unit, which is hereafter to be designated as Company F, First Battalion, U. S. National Guard of California.

The ten men making the highest scores in the elimination shoot held here Monday night will go to Oakland, including James Raft, Cecil K. Moon, Louis J. Freemaun, Ralph Baker, Benjamin Patton, Bert Sutton, William Cummings, Arthur Lobo and

W. D. Elton, who had previously pleaded not guilty to robbing Frank Leaby of Long Beach at a lonely spot below Serra several weeks ago, was in the Superior court today and changed his plea to "guilty." Then, through his attorney, F. C. Drumm, of Orange, applied for probation. Hearing on the application and time for pronouncing judgment was set for July 29.

Hansen, his partner in the crime, when they beat Leaby over the head into unconsciousness and robbed him of $79, had already pleaded guilty and asked probation. His hearing is also set for the 29th. Leaby was found the morning after the robbery unconscious near the railroad track below Serra and Elton and Hansen were arrested in San Diego.

Idle money is just as injurious to a community as idle labor or idle land. The best interests of a community demand that the different factors of civilization should function for the common benefit and not lie dormant. A few days ago a citizen brought into our office for investment a large sack of gold which had been hidden in a safety deposit box since the commencement of the war. It is a matter of interest when you place a Liberty Bond or an Investment Note in a safety deposit box. It is a matter of no interest even to yourself to put your money in a deposit box. ## GREAT CROP OF WALNUTS DUE THIS FALL

Twenty-Five Thousand Tons Estimated Total for the State

LOS ANGELES, July 25.—California walnut growers are preparing to harvest this fall the heaviest crop in history.

Twenty-five thousand tons of nuts—a half-pound of walnuts for every man, woman and child in the United States—is what the crop is expected to total, according to estimates by the California Walnut Growers' Association.

Last year's crop, which in itself was a record-breaker, was 19,000 tons.

Increased acreage and a natural increase in production as trees mature, play a part in rolling up this record crop, as do nearly perfect weather conditions this year, according to W. T. Webber, secretary of the Walnut Growers' association. But probably the most important factor, as far as the future of the industry is concerned, has been the part played by scientific handling of elements which have damaged past crops.

"One of the biggest factors in this year's big crop has been the control of the pests," Webber told the United Press. "For two years Prof. Ralph Smith of the University of California has been working in co-operation with our association to control the aphids and the walnut worm."

"He has worked out a spray to fight these pests which has proved very successful and reduced losses from these causes far below previous years. We now have 100 machines operating in the orchards and have 600 tons of Prof. Smith's preparation, and the result is reflected in the fine condition of the groves."

Orange, Los Angeles, Santa Barbara and Ventura counties will produce the bulk of California's 1919 nut crop. Harvesting will begin in September and shippers about the first of October. Prices which the present crop will bring will not be set until fall.

CHAMBER CONSIDERS SADDLEBACK JAUNT

merced that the road be made a feature of special attention by the body until it is put over and it was referred to the good roads committee of the Associated.

At a conference of the committee and engineers it was deemed that the cost of a road would prohibit its construction, the estimate for a paved road being $30,000 per mile, with the distance about thirteen miles.

Five or six years ago the local chamber conducted an "excursion" to Saddleback, about twenty-four being in the party. The view from the point is one of the grandest to be found anywhere in the United States, and it is the belief of many that a good road to the top would be a fine investment, whatever the cost might be.

It would offer one of the best scenic drives in the Southland, and would attract thousands of tourists to the county. The Santa Ana Chamber has not given up the idea of getting a road to the top, and the hike in connection with the Riverside Chamber will offer an opportunity for members of that organization to see for themselves the possibilities of the peak as an attractive point for both Riverside and Orange counties.

A date in October is suggested by Metzgar in his letter to the Riverside secretary. A trail is now open to Riverside by way of the Mayhew canyon and the Riverside riders are asked to make the climb over the Mayhew trail and meet the Santa Ana delegation, which will go up the Trabuco trail.

"This would be a scenic drive second to none, and I think there is no doubt that a hotel would be established on the mountain top," wrote Metzgar in his letter to Boardman. "I have reason to believe that the government will join us in the expense of the road."

PETITIONS HOLD SIX MEASURES FOR A VOTE

Referendum Action, However, May Not Be Legal As to Prohibition Amendment

The operation of the referendum will delay six laws and amendments that otherwise would have gone into effect this week. Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan has accepted all referendum petitions with the required number of names. The national prohibition amendment is among those which the referendum has delayed. Whether or not the referendum can legally operate against the legislative ratification of a federal constitutional amendment is a point that must be determined by the courts.

Other acts and measures held up by the referendum are:

The Harris act for the enforcement of national prohibition in California.

The Thompson community property act.

The so-called Bank of Italy act, to prevent banks from engaging in the insurance business.

The Irwin irrigation act, reducing the number of signers and voters necessary to initiate and complete irrigation district enterprises from two-thirds to one-half and otherwise simplifying the process. Governor Stephens made a plea against a referendum on this law, which he said would encourage the breaking up of large tracts, but the opponents seem to have been able to secure sufficient signatures to carry the issue to the people at the next federal election.

One of the laws held up is the Crowley poison act, designed to prevent the indiscriminate sale and handling of poisons and drugs by other than licensed physicians and druggists. The fight against it was made principally by those opposed to the section providing anesthetics should be administered by licensed physicians only.

The community property law was expected to give women the equal justice to which they claimed to be entitled by providing a wife should come into possession of community property rights automatically upon the death of her husband. It was attacked by a large number of bankers and other business men on the ground it would greatly increase litigation and confuse business, through the taking over suddenly by wives of operating businesses with the consequent necessity of accountings and liquidation.

The attempt to invoke the referendum on the delinquent women's farm law failed to secure a sufficient number of signatures.

flag. I am glad to announce that I have a number of subscriptions in hand and that a treasurer will be appointed at an early date to look after all funds for this tablet. Those who meanwhile wish to contribute may notify me at my residence, 902 North Main."

Mrs. Edith G. Rochester, mother of Nat, who makes her residence in Los Angeles, states that the bronze tablet will be modeled after that placed in memory of Col. Nathaniel Rochester, founder of Rochester, N. Y. Col. Rochester was one of Washington's officers in the Revolutionary War. His tablet was erected in St. Luke's church, Rochester, where it has had an honorable place since his death. The body of this tablet is of bronze mounted on a marble background.

The unveiling of the tablet here is to take place on November 8, Nat's birthday. The wording will be as follows:

In memory of Nathaniel Rochester, Company "B" 308 U. S. Infantry. Born Nov. 8, 1897. Killed in France while fighting for the Lost Battalion, October 8, 1918.

"Just like skipping a grade in school."

The quoted remarks at the end of the tablet are words written by Nat to his mother in one of his letters. He was trying to tell her that in the event that he should have to pay the supreme price "in line of duty" that it would be "just like skipping a grade in school," and that she must never look at it in any other light.

must present a financial budget for the ensuing year, within which the council must keep the financial program.

Dual office holding is abolished and police and firemen are placed under civil service.

Contractors who have dominated Philadelphia politics are thwarted by provisions requiring the city to do all street repairing, street cleaning and collection of ashes and waste, rubbish and garbage.

The bureau of health is made a department and a department of public welfare established.

The purpose of the new reform bills is to overcome the barriers of political organization and to compel party leadership to respond to the popular will. The legislation was regarded of such importance that the signing of the bills was made a spectacular occasion, at which many of the foremost men of Pennsylvania were present.

A NEW IDEA

Detroit Vapor Stove

Looks Like a Gas Range Works Like a Gas Range Burns Oil, Gasoline, Distillate

Detroit Vapor Stoves burn oil, gasoline or distillate without the use of wicks. The elimination of wicks saves bother, expense and dissatisfaction, and entirely eliminates odor—but far exceeding in importance these desirable points, the heavy iron burners which vaporize the liquid fuel directly under the cooking utensils, create a more intense heat, and a more even heat with about one-fourth less fuel than is possible with stoves built on the lamp principle with wicks or asbestos ring substitutes for wicks. Consequently, for making fried cakes, bakers use the Detroit Vapor burners; and for the finest pastry our ovens which have two burners have an unequalled record. We offer these points in favor of the stoves that work not merely "like gas" wherever oil or gasoline (even the cheaper grades) is available, but give the housekeeper unsurpassed service.

A Refrigerator Worthy a Place in Your Home

Not a crack or crevice anywhere for germs or grease to accumulate.

A Hadden Sprinkling System Saves Water

A hose is at best a make-shift as a sprinkling device for lawns. It is not a maker of beautiful lawns. It gives you too much water in one place—not enough in another. A hose is the cause of most spotty appearing lawns. It is a waste of water. What is needed is a uniform sprinkling system; something that spreads water evenly without waste, without constant attention.

The Hadden Sprinkling System, shown in the illustration above, is a maker of beautiful lawns.

The Hadden System does away with the hose entirely. It distributes water uniformly and eliminates loss through evaporation.

CYPRESS NEWS NOTES

CYPRESS, July 25—Mr. and Mrs. George Miller are entertaining this week Mr. and Mrs. Monroe from Arizona and Mr. and Mrs. Cherry from Santa Ana. The three families are planning a pleasure trip in the near future. They will probably go by automobile somewhere up in the northern part of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Larue and boys, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Gillison and son Andrew, have rented a house at Anaheim landing and will take possession next Sunday evening. The men folks will come back and forth to work by automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris, Mr. Wilkins and Mrs. Thos. Morris were driving along the Anaheim boulevard and run their auto into a surrey full of women, throwing the women out and hurting one pretty bad. The surrey belonged to Mr. King and his wife was driving. Her lip was cut badly and the other two women were thrown out but not hurt much. The surrey was badly wrecked.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Gillison and son and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Cox motored to Huntington Beach last Saturday night to fish, but fishing was so poor that all went to the picture show instead. Mr. and Mrs. Cox remained over night at the Gillison home and on Sunday all motored up to the Sanford bridge and ate lunch, after which they went on to Rivera to visit Mrs. E. R. Wylie.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Bunyard entertained last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Lon Lawton and daughter Unice, of Huntington Beach.

A. R. Bradley is hauling hay this week and is stacking it in Mr. Clouthier's barn.

Jewish Relief Board Plans to Care for Polish Children

NEW YORK, July 25.—Jewish bachelors all over the United States may soon become the adopted "daddies" of several scores of Jewish war orphans, straight from Poland, if an arrangement can be made with the immigration authorities.

They will be real "daddies," too, for this is to be no half-hearted proxy parent plan, by which one writes a check to care for one child for one year, and lets it go at that. Long distance parenthood is a makeshift thing. If the new plan goes through, it will be the genuine, first-hand adoption of real kids, who sometimes eat green apples, and wake folks up o' nights.

The American Jewish Relief Committee, which is fostering the idea, is considering the possibility of bringing to America a large number of the parentless kids of Eastern Europe, after homes have been secured for them in advance here. Jacob Billikopf, who has just returned to New York after several months in Poland, Lithuania, and other countries of Eastern Europe, as a representative of the American Jewish Relief work, started the movement by his adoption of a five-year-old Jewish girl in Cracow.

Adoption of these children would remove them from the conditions of terrible destitution in these countries. Mr. Billikopf says, in Poland, if one comes upon a hungry child sleeping in the streets, he cannot put the youngster in an orphanage. These are already overcrowded, in all the countries of Eastern Europe, and there is not enough food for the children now in them.

Circumstances Significant
The circumstances under which Mr. Billikopf adopted his little girl are significant of the conditions under which the children of these countries are living today.

"In my work for the American Jewish Relief Committee, I had gone to a wretched tenement in the hungriest section of Cracow, where starvation is a commonplace," Mr. Billikopf states. "An old man lay on a heap of rags, dying with an old woman, a mere wisp of skin and bones at his side. A little girl was playing in the room. Over there, where there is so much hunger and suffering, the children seldom have vitality enough to play, and we noticed her at once. She looked up and smiled at us—another unusual thing among the starving children of Eastern Europe."

"Her father and mother were dead, and her grandmother, who knew that she could live only a short time, was willing to let me adopt the child. I had the papers made out, and put her in a private home, until such time as it will be possible for her to get to America."

"The little girl will come to New York as soon as her immigration papers can be gotten from the authorities, and it is hoped that she may be the first of a number of children from Poland who may find homes here."

ENGLAND-BUENOS AIRES FLIGHT IS PLANNED

Vickers Building Airship Which May Try Trip Next Month

BY DON E. CHAMBERLAIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, July 24.—The first attempt to fly the Atlantic from London to Buenos Aires will be staged in August, if plans of British airship manufacturers do not miscarry.

Vickers, Limited, manufacturers of the Vickers-Vimy aeroplane, which, piloted by Captain Sir John Alcock and Lieut. Sir Arthur Brown, spanned the ocean between Newfoundland and Ireland, are now building a huge airship which they hope to have completed by August.

It is being built along the lines of the R-34 and has been christened the R-80. In addition to a large crew, the airship will carry ten passengers, all of whom have booked their seats at $2,500 per seat.

Three of those who have booked passage are Sir Woodman Burbridge, his wife, Lady Woodman, and R. H. Griffith. Sir Woodman and Griffith are the directing heads of Harrod's, which has stores in Buenos Aires and London.

Lady Woodman, if the flight is successful, will have the distinction of being the first woman to cross the ocean by other than boat.

It is figured the trip will be made in four days, saving weeks of travel. Discussing the commercial use of aviation in the future between South America and Europe, Sir Woodman said he did not believe it would offer serious competition to steamers. It will work wonders in the way of passenger traveling and will also be useful in carrying styles, jewelry and silks," said Sir Woodman, "but it would be too costly to ship goods."

He expressed confidence that eventually an aerial mail and passenger route will be established between Europe and South America.

He will return to London through the United States, where he will investigate American department store methods.

BILLS FOR FREE ZONES BEING CONSIDERED

Legislation of Importance to California Harbors in Congress

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Reconstruction legislation of vital importance to the ports of Los Angeles, San Diego, San Francisco and other Pacific coast ports is now being considered by a joint committee of Congress in the form of the so-called "free port" bills. The legislation is equally interesting to the inland producing areas of California.

Shortly before the United States entered the war, Congress directed the Tariff Commission to investigate and report on this subject. An exhaustive favorable report was prepared by the Commission under the direction of Commissioner William Kent of California, but action was delayed during the war. The project is now being renewed as a vital item in American merchant marine expansion.

Hearings will be held before the Congressional joint committee within a short time, to which representatives of California port and commercial organizations will be invited.

Illustrating what the establishment of port free zones will mean to San Diego, Los Angeles harbor, San Francisco, Oakland or any other Pacific coast port, it was testified by Philadelphian commercial leaders at a hearing held before Commissioner Kent in that city that a free zone would increase Philadelphia's present sea commerce by 20,000,000 tons, give it an annual export of more than a billion dollars, add twenty-five daily steamship cargoes to the business of the port, and increase Philadelphia's general business by two billion dollars a year.

Purpose of Law
The purpose of the proposed free zone legislation is expressed in an endorsing resolution adopted at the recent meeting of the National Foreign Trade Council at Chicago, as follows: "The establishment of free zones at the principal American ports where products from all countries can be assembled, classified, manufactured and reshipped, will be of great assistance in development of full cargoes both ways so essential to the success of the American merchant marine."

Simply defined, a free zone is a portion of a port where ships from all countries may enter upon payment of moderate and equal tolls, and load or discharge cargo. The zones form depots where goods may be stored temporarily without payment of duty, and where the goods may be utilized by local manufacturers in combination with home products for export trade. The merchandise can be reshipped for export upon payment of mere transit duty, or if not disposed of in export markets may be admitted to home consumption upon payment of full customs duty.

The zone creates a port within a port. Advocates of the plan urge that it will do efficiently what the United States is now doing clumsily through the customs drawback and bonding regulations. Its chief advantages are claimed to lie in the fact that it will facilitate the transit of merchandise by eliminating the red tape common to clearing of commercial ships, and that it will do away with vexatious and expense connected with the customs drawbacks and bonded warehouses.

The free zone bills have been approved by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, the Merchants Association of New York, the Philadelphia Bourse, the National Foreign Trade Council and many other commercial and civic bodies.

Encourage New Business
These organizations hold that free zones in ports will tend to encourage new business. The zones, they hold, will accord facilities for unloading goods, which may be stored, packed, mixed, assembled and even manufactured within the zones with a freedom that will be a magnet to commerce. No tariff question is involved in the legislation, as the customs regulations already provide in a round about cumbersome way what the free zones will accomplish directly.

The Congressional joint committee in charge of the legislation is made up of Senators Sheppard, Lenroot, Jones, Calder and Fletcher, and Representatives Sanders, Webster, Parker, Merritt and Montague. The pending legislation places the administration of the zones under the Department of Commerce.

European nations have used the free zone plan to advantage in a number of ports for several years, and are planning extensions of the system in readiness for the renewed contest for the world trade. Stockholm, Copenhagen, several ports of Spain and a number of German ports have the zones.

WILL ADVERTISE ORANGE WITH MOVIE FILM

Business Men's Club Preparing For Publicity Campaign In East

ORANGE, July 25.—The Business Men's Club of Orange have made arrangements to have a number of scenes of Orange and its vicinity made in motion pictures. It is planned to use this picture abroad to give those living in the east a better idea of the many advantages of this favored section as a place to live, and it is expected that the people of Orange will lend their best efforts to make the production the very best possible.

The name of the picture will be "Smiles," and the idea will be to film an expression of contentment, prosperity and sunshine that will rightly reflect the happiness of the dwellers of this golden land, where nature ever smiles and with the magic of her smiles throws open the doors to her treasure house of fertile fields and laden orchards. Views of the plaza and Hewes Park will be made at 2:30 Sunday afternoon, and at that time as many residents as can possibly do so are urged to be at these places. Their presence will help to make "Smiles" a picture that will reflect credit to the city.

The ladies are especially requested to be there, as it would be impossible to get too many smiles and pleasant faces in the film. During the making of the picture some one Orange lady will be separately filmed in a close up as the city's representative and prettiest smile.

Compliment Service Men

Wednesday evening Mrs. Claude Porter gave a delightful party in honor of her nephew, Corporal Floyd Starkey, and Dana Spicer, who are recently returned service men from France. The evening was spent playing games on the lawn, also different members of the gay party favored with music and speeches. The guests were surprised to hear the old familiar strains of a wedding march, and Miss Addie Conner, accompanied by her groom entered. Mr. Spicer tied the knot in a most admirable way. Leo Allison playing soft strains of music. The groom is one of the most promising of our rising young generation. "His" name will be remembered as Miss Ella Atherton.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and all enjoyed the element of surprise in the form of the unique wedding. Those included were the Misses Lola and Lucella Robinson, Goldie Nordeen, Esther Neville, Stella Ditchey, Ruth Gibbons, Addie Connor and Ella Atherton. Messrs. Floyd Starkey, Dana Spicer, Rex and Wayne McGill, Leo Allison, Albert Dowden, Dayton Ditchey, Milo Porter, Messrs. and Mesdames McGill, Porter, Price and Starkey.

Wedded at Kiefhaber Home

The beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Kiefhaber on North Harwood street was the scene of a charming wedding Wednesday evening at 8:30, when Miss Katherine Konda, of Bishop, became the bride of Paul Weiser, of Ventura.

The room in which the ceremony took place was artistically decorated in greenery and white flowers. The lovely bride was gowned in a gray satin and georgette crepe dress. The couple was unattended and Rev. Galbraith of the Baptist church officiated with the double ring ceremony. Only a few of the immediate friends of the young couple were present. Mrs. Weiser is a college chum of Miss Marguerite Kiefhaber; she was principal of the Somis schools in Ventura county last year. The groom has large interests in that district.

For Visitor

The home of L. D. Gunther was the scene of an interesting party honoring Henry Trost, who has recently arrived from Ft. Dodge, Ia. The evening was spent with music and pleasant conversation. Cooling refreshments were served to the following: Messrs. and Mesdames E. Loescher, E. Bandick, A. Dittmer, Emil Weiss, Oscar Gunther, L. D. Gunther and Henry Trost.

Celebrated Birthdays

Mrs. Widdowson and Mrs. Martin entertained their friends with a delightful party at the Widdowson apartments. The occasion was to celebrate the birthdays of the two ladies. Five members of the Saez family of East Chapman avenue entertained the guests with beautiful selections on stringed instruments. Cooling refreshments were served to about thirty guests.

Notes and Personals

Word has been received that Mrs. Susie Rubley of Plain City, Ohio, died yesterday morning at her home. She was the sister of Mrs. C. M. McDowell of this city, and has just recently spent four months here.

Henry Trost from Fort Dodge, Iowa is a guest at the home of Adolph Dittmer. Little Harold Dittmer has been spending a week with the E. Loescher family at Richfield.

Miss Golda Launder, who has been in Prescott, Arizona, for the past two months left Monday for St. Joe, Missouri, where she will visit friends and relatives.

PREDICTS $2,000,000 FOR ANAHEIM GROWERS

ANAHEIM, July 25.—"I have had no reason as yet to change my prediction that Anaheim packing houses this year will return $2,000,000 to growers this season, compared to $1,000,000 last year and around $375,000 two years ago," says Manager G. W. Sandilands, of the Anaheim Orange & Lemon Assn.

Sandilands originally made his forecast publicly at the annual board of trade banquet last winter. His one qualification, of course, was the condition of the market. Concerning this feature, he said:

"The market is in much better shape now and I still think we're going to crowd the $2,000,000 mark."

"We have this in our favor: the Florida crop is late and the deciduous crop in many sections is under last year's. We are banking on these things to keep up prices."

"Last year most of the Valencia crop was moved by this date. This year, we still have a lot of fruit to move."

Evidently believing Demon Rum is coming back, owners of 128,356 gallons of whiskey in Los Angeles warehouses are keeping it there, instead of exporting it.

COMMANDERY IS ORGANIZED AT FULLERTON

Will Get Most of Its Membership From Santa Ana Knights Templar

FULLERTON, July 25.—Over fifty Knights Templar, local and visiting members, met in the Masonic hall here Wednesday night to take up the matter of forming a commandery in Fullerton.

Every member present was in favor of organizing a Fullerton lodge of Knights Templar if assured it would be a success, and when the matter came to a vote it was unanimous.

Forty or more members in this section belong to Santa Ana commandery and they will transfer their membership to the new lodge here. Officials from that lodge attended the meeting here and stated that they were aware of the fact that all parts of the county were rapidly increasing in population, therefore they did not think Santa Ana commandery would object to the forming of a new lodge in Fullerton.

On motion, it was decided to name the new lodge Fullerton Commandery.

The following officers were elected: Arthur Staley, eminent commander; Dr. Jesse Chilton, generalissimo; Stanley Chapman, captain general; E. K. Benchley, treasurer.

Messrs. Hartranft, Marks and Staley were appointed a committee to obtain the consent of Santa Ana lodge to form the new commandery here.

It will be a great honor for Fullerton to have a commandery. This city has one of the best known Masonic lodges in the state and when the new temple is erected and the commandery established, Fullerton will be one of the greatest lodge cities of its size in the entire West.

Counting the members who belong to outside lodges and the local members who belong to Santa Ana, it is believed the new commandery will start out with a membership of at least fifty.

STORE MANAGER IS MISSING, RICHFIELD

RICHFIELD, July 25.—Residents of Richfield are wondering where J. J. Stein, manager of the Richfield Mercantile Co. has gone.

Neighbors say he left about 10 p. m. Friday with his wife and two children in a new touring car he had recently purchased.

G. A. Waterman, owner of the store, had been going over the books of the store the last week. Waterman and his manager are said to have had some words over discrepancies in accounts. It is said Waterman had had some difficulty in accounting for a discrepancy of something like $2,000.

Charles Scott, well known in Anaheim, has been put in charge of the store since clerks arrived Saturday and found Stein missing.

Neighbors say he had been talking about making a trip to Washington to get his father, saying that he would return. So far is known, nothing has been heard from him since he drove away Friday night.

California now has 25 farmers' mutual fire insurance companies.

CHAPMAN WELL SHOWS INCREASE IN FLOW

RICHFIELD, July 25.—The Union Oil company's Chapman No. 1 has been steadily increasing the last week until now it is up to 4600 barrels. Very few big wells have been known to increase output, generally the production gradually falls. A couple of weeks ago the Chapman well was making 3600 and the rise to 4600 barrels is one of the wonders of the California field. The quality of the oil is standing the same, and is coming free from sand or water. This tremendous volume of oil is coming through an 1 1/4 opening and a gas pressure of 275 pounds is being maintained on the casing head with ease. The great flow of oil is accompanied by 2 million feet of gas daily that is rich in gasoline. The gas is coming in very handy in the extensive development work the Union is doing all around the great well.

ARM BADLY TORN BY AIRPLANE PROPELLER

LOS ANGELES, July 25.—All the flesh from elbow to wrist of the left arm of Capt. Arthur L. Anderson, 917 South Grand View avenue, an officer of the Fifteenth Separate Company of the California National Guard and in civilian life a traveling salesman, was stripped off by the blades of an airplane propeller yesterday, when he sacrificed his own safety to save a child from injury.

The plane, operated by W. B. Hawkins, lurched sideward when rising at the Mercury Aviation Field, Wilshire boulevard and Crescent avenue, and the propeller caught Capt. Anderson when he sprang forward to shield the child. His arm was flayed and the bone broken.

At the receiving hospital Dr. Goodrich stated amputation will not be necessary.

E. L. Beasley, newly appointed chief of police of South Pasadena, also is building inspector, plumbing inspector, sewer inspector, city electrician, custodian of city property and purchasing agent.
